SHANE STOREY

Recently IRD presented a webinar which gave an overview of the new tax rules. Many found the webinar overwhelming or confusing.

Long standing member of MPIA and Director of Storey & Associates Ltd a local accounting business, Shane is working with these new rules in his practice daily.

Shane is a property investor himself. He understands how these rules apply to investment property. Shane will give us a more practical overview of how the rules will affect us in various situations.

It's good to get an understanding of the tax implications before we make decisions with our portfolios and even better to get expert independent professional advice.
